PREFACE

Kerala occupies a covetable position, among the other states of India in the matter of literacy and achievement of universal enrolment for children of age group 6-11. In the case of students of age groups 11-14 and 14-17 also, the State has shown a definite lead. Yet, there is considerable pressure for additional enrolment every year and consequently the expansion of school facilities would continue to be a compelling need during the coming years also. The percentage of enrolment as on 1966 for the age groups 6-11, 11-14 and 14-17 will be respectively 106.5, 56.2 and 30.

Much thinking usually goes into the location of industries as to the availability of land, cheap labour, raw materials, transportation facilities, market for the product, etc. The location of schools also requires careful planning. Considerations which go to help create an academic atmosphere, such as convenience and accessibility to children, minimum disturbance to neighbouring schools, etc., are to weigh more effectively, in the matter of location of schools and provision of educational facilities most economically.

A scientific and systematic assessment of the available educational facilities and the likely future needs by localities or regions, is quite necessary and as one of the preliminary tools for the purpose, the Department of Education has been considering, bringing out a visual picture of the spread of schools of different categories, in the State. This novel attempt has been made by the State Institute of Education.

There are 147 educational sub-district maps and 24 educational district maps. The former comprises the Primary Schools of the State, both Lower Primary/Junior Basic and Upper Primary/Senior Basic Schools. The latter contains High and Training Schools which are under the control of the District Educational Officers. Definite, clearly identifiable symbols are allotted to the various categories of schools. Apart from the marking of the schools, roads, rivers, railways, etc., are also shown. Village boundaries also are roughly indicated to bring out an idea, of how far the educational facilities have reached the villages. In the educational district maps, the sub-district boundaries are also shown. The maps need be taken only as notional maps wherein greater emphasis has been given to bring into relief the comparative disposition of the schools and their overall pattern of spread in the different regions of the State.

This volume is the outcome of a series of efforts at collection, cross-verification and rectification. A lot of time has to be spent in arriving at maximum accuracy possible. However, there may be cases of omissions and errors. If, further attempts are to be made at the manuscript stage to reach still better exactitude, it is almost certain, that the project will be delayed indefinitely. It has been therefore decided to hasten the completion of the project and get the material printed for wider use. It is expected that the material would serve as an effective, and basic bench-mark data to be worked upon and improved on, in the coming years.

The picture of location of schools, relates to the position as at the end of the Third Five Year Plan. The various schools are numbered and the names of the corresponding schools are given for convenience of reference. All the areas of jurisdictions have been drawn to a size 43 x 30 cms. and they have been printed in the same size. It is expected that there would be still some space left to mark new schools, make appropriate changes of school locations or grades, etc. A few sheets of paper with suitable captions are also added on, at the end of the volume, to help those concerned to record the various changes that would become necessary, from year to year.
